Duchess of Cambridge launches survey on childhood - can you answer her questions?

The Duchess of Cambridge has launched a landmark survey which gives people across the UK an opportunity to provide their view on raising the next generation.

The survey contains five short questions and aims to spark a national conversation on the early years that will ultimately help bring about positive, lasting change for generations to come. It is designed to bring together the thoughts of as many people as possible – recognising that everyone has a role in ensuring strong, healthy foundations for the youngest in our society that will positively affect their lifelong outcomes.

They want to hear from all adults living across the UK, if you are 16 or above and live in England, Wales, Scotland or Northern Ireland, whether you have children or not – there are no right or wrong answers, they want to hear what you think.

1	Rabbits	96.3%
2	Owls	99.5%
Total attendance		95.8%

For the week beginning the 20th there were 10 occasions when children were late. Time lost in the mornings can mount up quickly in lost education and cause disruption for other children in the class.

Well done Owls with an attendance of 99.5% for the week beginning 20th January. The whole school attendance for that week was 95.8%.

Good attendance at school is important for your child's development & progress. Please ensure your child attends every day and not take holidays in term time.

We want every child to be a H.E.R.O every day, Here. Every day. Ready to learn. On time.
